STAFFROOM DYNAMICS

These workshops will give your staff the tools and knowledge to help them understand why people behave the way they do, and help them build relationships, improve your teams communication skills, and identify their personal potential. Most importantly it will help all people understand their colleagues!

- Why do you Click with some people and others drive you CRAZY!
- Do you find there are some people you get along with straight away?
- Are there others you find very annoying?

Who is it for?

- Leaders to understand their team members better
- New staff members who need to click straight away
- Schools going through change
- Staff inductions
- Year 10-12 Students leadership development
- Departments experiencing conflicts
- Teachers to understand varying parents personalities

Why Click! Colours?

Historically there have been dozens, if not hundreds of personality concepts, tools and models developed.

The Click! Colours have drawn on the best aspects of these models to create a simple tool that is better, faster, cheaper and easier – and more fun!

Suitable for topics such as interpersonal skills, relationships, leadership, teamwork and team building, networking, customer service, personal and professional development and community building.

What are the benefits?

- Staff collaborating better with each other
- Staff becoming more approachable and more understanding of each other
- Breaking down department barriers & silos
- Each staff member receives a personal set of Click! Colours Cards to take away

Whole Staff Professional Learning with a big impact that doesn't break the budget

Bringing training to your door means:

Don't just take our word for it....

“

"Andy is a highly accomplished facilitator who engages colleagues and school leaders in a safe and dynamic learning environment. He provides captivating learning experiences and makes every session practical and relevant. Based on the content covered in the sessions, I was able to implement exciting ideas in my classroom and across the whole school. Andy is approachable, funny and makes everything he delivers engaging."

Rachael Robertson - North Woodvale Primary School and 2016 Positive Schools Teacher of the Year

"Andy is a knowledgeable, personable and skilled presenter. He competently engages educators and stakeholders and works collaboratively to support achievable change."

Laura Allison - Director of Wellbeing Presbyterian Ladies' College

"Andrew has transformed the way we do many things as a school. He not only provides support, he also provides ideas and connections in networks and discussion groups. He is inspirational and knowledgeable but more importantly for us he was approachable, engaging and real!

Thanks to his guidance and professionalism we are all working towards a common goal with clarity!"

Sadie Brayshaw - Curriculum Leader, Hocking Primary School

Student and Staff Workshops

The real revolution in schools in the coming years is not technology. Its information and who knows how to access the best information.

A simple skill like knowing how to use a search engine will improve critical thinking skills and create more independent learners.

Do you even know how to Google?

- Do you seem to get back similar homework responses from students?
- When researching, do you know how to validate the information?
- How can we use simple tools to enhance class learning, deepen information and broaden ours and our students knowledge?

Most people think they can Google.....most people are wrong.

Students and teachers can be empowered to take their learning to deeper and deeper levels while developing essential skills that will prepare them for success in the 21st century.
